Dear Georgette Houle,

Please find enclosed a copy of my new novel Burridge Unbound (working title: "The Truth Commission"), for which I received an Arts Committee "A" grant in 1998, enabling me to work on a first draft. Many, many thanks to the committee for supporting me in this project—as you will see, I have acknowledged this support, with gratitude, on the publication information page at the beginning of the book.

I will be launching the book with a reading on May 8th at the National Library, 395 Wellington Street, 8 p.m., and would be happy to invite you and any Arts Committee members to attend the event.

Thanks again!

Sincerely,

Alan Cumyn
